U | Privacy and cookies | Jobs | Dating | Offers | Shop | Puzzles | Investor

Log in ▼ Register ▼ Subscribe

Friday 11 March 2016

Search - enhanced by OpenText Q

Home Video News World Sport Business Money Comment Culture Travel Life Women Fashion Luxury Tech Film

HOME » FINANCE » MARKETS

The Telegraph

Asian shares skid to three-year lows as Glencore rout widens

The plummeting share price of commodity trader Glencore drags down Asia-Pacific stock markets

Japan's Nikkei closed down 4.1pc

By Agency

7:37AM BST 29 Sep 2015

Asian shares skidded to three-and-a-half year lows, pulled down by sharp losses on Wall Street after weak Chinese data rekindled worries about its fragile economy.

Commodities struggled after fears of weaker demand pushed them to multi-year lows overnight.

Adding to the gloom, commodity trader Glencore's Hong Kong-listed shares were around 28pc lower, after its London-listed stock plunged on debt worries.

European markets aren't expected to be spared the selloff either. Financial spreadbetters are predicting Britain's FTSE 100 would open down by as much as 0.8pc, Germany's DAX 0.6pc, and France's CACM 40 1pc.

"Investors are worried about a sharp slowdown in China... but the biggest risk is a global recession, not just a China issue," said Steven Leung, a director at UOB Kay Hian in Hong Kong.

"If you look at Japan... its economy is in bad shape. And the economic situation is not good in Europe, either."

MSCI's broadest index of Asia-Pacific shares outside Japan slumped 2.3pc, touching its lowest levels since June 2012 and extending early declines after Chinese shares opened lower.

China's blue-chip CSI300 index and the Shanghai Composite Index were down 2pc and 1.9pc respectively in afternoon trading.

Japan's Nikkei stock index tumbled to 8-months, ending down 4.1pc.

"There is a lot of red in Asian equity markets at the moment," said Martin King, co-managing director at Tyton Capital Advisors.

"Disappointing industrial profits in China continue to bolster concerns about growth and many investors are taking profits from the Nikkei and sitting in cash and alternatives, or repatriating capital to western markets in a perceived flight to quality."

Glencore shares have taken a pounding

Chinese industrial companies' profits fell at their fastest rate in four years, official data showed on Monday, sparking fresh fears about the strength of that country's economy ahead of the final reading of China's Caixin Purchasing Managers' Index on Thursday.

On Wall Street overnight, major indexes all closed sharply down. The S&P 500 index hit a one-month low on bullish US consumer spending data in August as it raised concerns the Federal Reserve could hike rates at a time of slackening global growth.

The Fed held off from raising interest rates at its meeting earlier this month, citing worries about the global economy, particularly China.

But New York Fed President William Dudley said the central bank remains on track for a likely rate hike this year and could move as soon as next month.

John Williams, head of the San Francisco Fed, also signalled support for an interest rate hike this year, though Chicago Fed chief Charles Evans sounded a far more dovish tone.

US non-farm payrolls on Friday could add more clarity to the timing of a US policy move, and prop up the sagging greenback.

Telegraph Investor»

The Telegraph INVESTOR TAX EFFICIENT INVESTING ISA, JISA & SIPP FIND OUT MORE »

Latest Finance Videos »

Financial detox: tips for saving on shopping

How to save money on your house and bills

Louis Saha: 'A British bank lost me a six-figure sum. I'm

More From The Web

More From The Web

More From The Web

Promoted stories

Recommended by Outbrain

Top Finance Galleries»

These are the most valuable start-ups in the world

In pics: Some fledgling firms have reached valuations in the tens of billions. These are the 20 priciest of them all

Email

Starbucks' secret menu - the drinks you didn't know you can ask for

There are over 87,000 different drink combinations at Starbucks, according to the coffee retailer's website. How many of them do you know? From flu remedies to Harry Potter-inspired beverages, we highlight the weird and the wonderful brews and infusions.

Revealed: the weirdest sub-genres on Netflix

From 'scary cult movies from the 1980s' to 'coming-of-age animal tales', Netflix has every niche covered.

Revealed: The 20 best countries in the world to do business

Forbes's annual index assess countries by a range of factors from taxes and technology to red tape and innovation. These are the top 20 countries for doing business

What are the super-rich planning for Valentine's Day?

From a rare pair of Gucci shoes, to spending £110,000 releasing an album, Britain's wealthiest are pulling out all the stops

First rate rise in 'August 2019' - latest market prediction

Briefing: Predictions saw a huge shift this week. We explain why - and what it means for mortgages and savings

The world's 10 most expensive cities 2015

New data: Discover the priciest cities around the globe for luxury property.

— Comments

Tables: The cheapest places to buy an Isa

Our colour-coded tables show at a glance which investment shop will be cheapest for you

Comments

The Big Short hits UK cinemas: these are the best films about business

The Big Short, the film adaptation of Michael Lewis' book of the same name about the causes of the financial crisis, opens in UK cinemas this weekend. How will the story stack up against the greatest films about business?

Nine people everyone will be talking about at Davos 2016

Back to top 🔺

T	HOME Finance Financial Crisis Debt Crisis Live	Economics Transport Media and Telecoms Energy	Personal Finance Your Business Investing Savings	Companies China business Money Deals Money Transfers	Contact us Privacy and Cookies Advertising Fantasy Football	Follow Us Apps Epaper Expat
	Markets Banks and Finance City Diary	Retail News	Student Finance Jobs Job Search	Comment Alex Find an IFA	Tickets Announcements Reader Prints	Promotions Subscriber Syndication
© Copyright of Telegraph Media Group Limited 2016 Terms and Conditions Today's News Archive Style Book Weather Forecast						